

Two 12 month Locum positions available

The Department of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine combines academic, research, and service components within Saskatoon Health Region and the University of Saskatchewan, College of Medicine. The Department has an accredited residency training program in General Pathology and provides training at the undergraduate, graduate and post-doctoral levels. The Division of Anatomical Pathology is staffed by 15 pathologists, including specialists in neuro- and renal pathology. The hematopathology division has a staff of four.

The Department's broad range of clinical programs are well suited for educational and research activities. A users group is available for collaborative research with clinical faculty using the $173.5 million Canadian Light Source synchrotron, owned by the University of Saskatchewan.

The College of Medicine has an intake of 84 students per year with a commensurate number of positions for residency training. This intake will soon increase to 100.

With over 12,000 staff and 800 physicians, Saskatoon Health Region is one of the most integrated and complex health delivery agencies in Canada, serving more than 300,000 residents. The three hospitals located in the city are tertiary teaching centres. Saskatoon, population 230,000, is noted for its small town friendliness and big city amenities. The city is easily accessible by air.

The top of the April 1, 2010 salary scale is $317,000 (Cdn) and 2011 increases will be announced soon. Pathologists enjoy a generous vacation and benefits package.

Candidates must hold certification or be eligible for certification with the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada.

In accordance with Immigration requirements, preference will be given to Canadian citizens or those who have Permanent Landed Resident status.
