Is Your Child At Risk for Early Childhood Tooth Decay?

Fluoride varnish applications help prevent tooth decay. To find out if your child is at risk for early childhood tooth decay, read the points below. For each yes, check the box.

Does your child:

- live in an area with a non-fluoridated water supply, or a low natural fluoride level of less than 0.3mg/L? If you do not know, you can check with your local public health office.
- have visible plaque on teeth?
- have teeth brushed less than once a day?
- have a visible cavity or white chalky area on a tooth?
- have fillings, crowns, or extractions?
- see a dentist less than once a year?
- regularly eat foods or drink beverages that contain sugar (including natural sugars) between meals? This includes the use of a bottle or training cup filled with any liquid other than water.
- regularly use sweetened medicine?
- use a training cup or bottle after age 1?
- have a history of premature birth, with a low birth weight of less than 1500 grams (3 pounds)?
- have special health care needs?
- have a sibling, parent or caregiver with untreated cavities or existing fillings, crowns and extractions?
- have a sibling who had dental treatment under general anaesthetic?

If you did not check any box above, your child is at low risk for early childhood tooth decay. Your child would benefit from one fluoride varnish application each year.

If you checked one or more boxes above, your child is at risk for early childhood tooth decay. Your child would benefit from two fluoride varnish applications each year.

If you want your child to have fluoride varnish applications, complete the fluoride varnish consent form on the back of this page.

For more information, contact your local Public Health office.
