

LIVER - SPLEEN IMAGING

PATIENT PREPARATION:

No specific preparation required. Avoid the presence of barium in the abdomen.

PROCEDURE

A radioactive tracer is injected in the arm. Ten to 15 minutes after the injection, the patient will lie on their back and tomographic images will be taken of the liver and spleen. The entire procedure will take 45-60 minutes.